

Slide 1 – Cover Page

Slide 2 – WordPress???

WordPress started as just a blogging system, but has evolved to be used as full content management system and so much more through the thousands of plugins and widgets and themes, WordPress is limited only by your imagination.

Slide 3 – Platform???

WordPress was born out of a desire for an elegant, well-architected personal publishing system built on PHP and MySQL and licensed under the GPLv2. It is the official successor of b2/cafelog (Started as b2/evolution CMS using PHP and MySQL, multi-user multi-blog engine, in 2003 known as WordPress)

Slide 4 – Roadmap

After the 2.1, WordPress decided to adopt a regular release schedule every 3-4 months with the features primarily driven by ideas voted on by our users. (Using a Bug Tracking System – WordPress Trac)

Slide 5 – Statistics

WordPress v4.0 accounts for almost 8% of the total WordPress sites using them (including us!!). Currently, we are using PHP v5.4, so we fall in the 21.5% category and MySQL v5.5, which sits us in the 49% category.
